

Attention All Users of MINIMUS!

Once again there will be a "Minimus at the Museum Day" in 2010!
This time the venue is the Grosvenor Museum CHESTER.

June 10th is the date for your diary.

Places will be limited but we hope that if you are within travelling distance you will consider bringing a group.

Cost will be £9 per head plus your travel costs. (One free accompanying adult per 5 children).

A carousel of activities will fill your day.

- Meet Barbara Bell (author) and Helen Forte (illustrator)
- Caroline Lawrence author of The Roman Mysteries books will sign copies of her books.
- Hear and see how the Romans lived in Chester as you are guided round the city by a centurion.

Further details available from the organiser Pam Macklin - e-mail pam@nethaus.co.uk

If you were unable to travel to the BM for the last Minimus at the British Museum Day this may be your opportunity to participate.
