Letter from a soldier
Dear Family
It's horrible!
For a start it's cold and all we have for warmth is a leather coat.
The beds are uncomfortable!
The pay is good but the food, usually porridge, bacon and chicken, is sometimes mouldy. Stupidly I lost some money gambling.
Yesterday I had to clean the latrines (toilets) as a punishment.
Please send me some new socks and some olives.
Love from your son

WORD MAZE
FROM Abby Jones
Wellesbourne JM School
Liverpool

Cantus
Perhaps you already know this one in French!
Sing these words to the tune of "Frère Jacques"

O mi frater, O Jacobe
num dormis? num dormis?
matutin' est hora,
tintinnare debes,
tin, tan, ton, tin, tan, ton

A Book Review
"A Step out of Time"
by Maggie Duncan
ISBN0-9535091-1-7

Anna Hoogkamer and Naomi Grant of Cringleford Cof E First & Middles Schools, Norfolk found this book which gives us some ideas of life in a Roman city.

Anna says "I could hardly put the book down. I felt as if I had been transported back in time by the oak tree. I found it quite scary but not too scary. My favourite character was Claire."

Naomi description was "A gripping read. I enjoyed the fast flowing and exciting plot. It felt very 'real'. My favourite character was Claire because she was clever and quick-thinking."

The Editor enjoyed it too!
Perhaps you should try it yourself.

Salvete omnes!
I know that some of you have now moved on to "Minimus Secundus." I wonder if you have reached Chapter 6 yet? This is the chapter when the family celebrates the "Saturnalia."

This was a Roman festival in December, when masters and slaves changed places for a few days. At Clifton High in Bristol where I teach, the year 6 classes have just done this chapter. We had Saturnalia parties. The pupils reclined on benches and their class teacher and I were their slaves and waited on them. We had great fun!

If you have a Saturnalia party, write and tell me all about it.
Valete omnes!
